

Read the back before completing this form. Complete this form based on the best estimate of your circumstances.

Sections 2, 7, 8, and 11 include changes proposed in the 2007 Federal budget.

Last name	First name and initial(s)	Date of birth	Employee number
Address			Social insurance number
City	Province	Postal code	For non-residents only - Country of permanent residence

1. Basic personal amount - Every resident of Canada can claim this amount. If you will have more than one employer or payer at the same time in 2007, see "Completing the TD1" on the back. If you are a non-resident, see "Non-residents" on the back.	$ 8,929.00
2. Child amount - If a child born in 1990 or later resides with both parents throughout the year, either parent (but not both) may claim $2,000 per child. Any unused portion can be transferred to that parent's spouse or common-law partner. If the child does not reside with both parents throughout the year, the parent who is entitled to claim the amount for an eligible dependant can claim the child amount.
3. Age amount - If you will be 65 or older on December 31, 2007, and your net income from all sources will be $30,936 or less, enter $5,177. If your net income will be between $30,936 and $65,449 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get the Worksheet for the 2007 Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1-WS) and complete the appropriate section.
4. Pension income amount - If you will receive regular pension payments from a pension plan or fund (excluding Canada Pension Plan, Quebec Pension Plan, Old Age Security, or Guaranteed Income Supplement payments), enter $2,000 or your estimated annual pension income, whichever is less.
5. Tuition, education and textbook amounts (full time and part time) - If you are a student enrolled at a university, college, or educational institution certified by Human Resources and Social Development, and you will pay more than $100 per institution in tuition fees, complete this section. If you are enrolled full time, or if you have a mental or physical disability and are enrolled part time, enter the total of the tuition fees you will pay, plus $400 for each month that you will be enrolled, plus $65 per month for textbooks. If you are enrolled part time and do not have a mental or physical disability, enter the total of the tuition fees you will pay, plus $120 for each month that you will be enrolled part time, plus $20 per month for textbooks.
6. Disability amount - If you will claim the disability amount on your income tax return by using Form T2201, Disability Tax Credit Certificate , enter $6,890.
7. Spouse or common-law partner amount - If you are supporting your spouse or common-law partner who lives with you, and whose net income for the year will be $0, enter $8,929. If his or her net income for the year will be between $0 and $8,929 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get the Worksheet for the 2007 Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1-WS) and complete the appropriate section.
8. Amount for an eligible dependant - If you do not have a spouse or common-law partner and you support a dependent relative who lives with you, and whose net income for the year will be $0, enter $8,929. If his or her net income for the year will be between $0 and $8,929 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get the Worksheet for the 2007 Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1-WS) and complete the appropriate section.
9. Caregiver amount - If you are taking care of a dependant who lives with you, whose net income for the year will be $13,726 or less, and who is either your or your spouse's or common-law partner's: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• parent or grandparent (aged 65 or older), or</li> <li>• relative (aged 18 or older) who is dependent on you because of an infirmity, enter $4,019. If the dependant's net income for the year will be between $13,726 and $17,745 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get the Worksheet for the 2007 Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1-WS) and complete the appropriate section.</li> </ul>
10. Amount for infirm dependant age 18 or older - If you support an infirm dependant age 18 or older who is your or your spouse's or common-law partner's relative, who lives in Canada, and whose net income for the year will be $5,702 or less, enter $4,019. You cannot claim an amount for a dependant you claimed on line 9. If the dependant's net income for the year will be between $5,702 and $9,721 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get the Worksheet for the 2007 Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1-WS) and complete the appropriate section.
11. Amounts transferred from your spouse or common-law partner - If your spouse or common-law partner will not use all of his or her age amount, pension income amount, tuition, education and textbook amounts, disability amount or child amount on his or her income tax return, enter the unused amount.
12. Amounts transferred from your dependant - If your dependant will not use all of his or her disability amount on his or her income tax return, enter the unused amount. If your or your spouse or common-law partner's dependent child or grandchild will not use all of his or her tuition, education and textbook amounts on his or her income tax return, enter the unused amount.
13. TOTAL CLAIM AMOUNT - Add lines 1 through line 12. Your employer or payer will use this amount to determine the amount of your tax deductions.	$ 8,929.00

Completing the TD1

Complete this form only if:

- you want to change amounts you previously claimed;
- you have a new employer or payer and you will receive salary, wages, commissions, pensions, Employment Insurance benefits, or any other remuneration;
- you want to claim the deduction for living in a prescribed zone; or
- you want to increase the amount of tax deducted at source.

Sign and date it and give it to your employer or payer.

If you have more than one employer or payer at the same time and you have already claimed personal tax credit amounts on another TD1 form for 2007, you can choose not to claim them again. By doing this, you may not have to pay as much tax when you file your income tax return. To choose this option, enter "0" on line 13 on the front page and do not complete lines 2 to 12.

If you do not complete a TD1 form, your new employer or payer will deduct taxes after allowing the basic personal amount only.

Total income less than total claim amount

- Check this box if your total income for the year from all employers and payers will be less than your total claim amount on line 13. Then your employer or payer will not deduct tax from your earnings.

Non-residents

Are you a non-resident of Canada who will include 90% or more of your world income when determining your taxable income earned in Canada in 2007? If you are unsure of your residency status, call the International Tax Services Office at 1-800-267-5177.

- If yes, complete the front page.
- If no, enter "0" on line 13 and do not complete lines 2 to 12, as you are not entitled to the personal tax credits.

Provincial or territorial personal tax credits return

If your claim amount on line 13 is more than $8,929, you also have to complete a provincial or territorial personal tax credit return. If you are an employee, use the TD1 form for your province or territory of employment. If you are a pensioner, use the TD1 form for your province or territory of residence. Your employer or payer will use both this federal form and your most recent provincial or territorial TD1 form to determine the amount of your tax deductions.

If you are claiming the basic personal amount only (your claim amount on line 13 is $8,929), your employer or payer will deduct provincial or territorial taxes after allowing the provincial or territorial basic personal amount.

Note: If you are a Saskatchewan resident supporting children under 18 at any time during 2007, you may be able to claim the child amount on the TD1SK, 2007 Saskatchewan Personal Tax Credits Return. Therefore, you may want to complete the TD1SK form even if you are only claiming the basic personal amount on this form.

Deduction for living in a prescribed zone

If you live in the Northwest Territories, Nunavut, Yukon, or another prescribed northern zone for more than six months in a row beginning or ending in 2007, you can claim:

- $7.50 for each day that you live in the prescribed northern zone, or
- $15 for each day that you live in the prescribed northern zone if, during that time, you live in a dwelling that you maintain, and you are the only person living in that dwelling who is claiming this deduction.

$ _____

Employees living in a prescribed intermediate zone can claim 50% of the total of the above amounts.

For more information, get Form T2222, Northern Residents Deductions, and the Publication T4039, Northern Residents Deductions – Places in Prescribed Zones.

Additional tax to be deducted

You may want to have more tax deducted from each payment, especially if you receive other income, including non-employment income such as CPP or QPP benefits, or Old Age Security pension. By doing this, you may not have to pay as much tax when you file your income tax return. To choose this option, state the amount of additional tax you want to have deducted from each payment. To change this deduction later, complete a new TD1 form.

Reduction in tax deductions

You can ask to have less tax deducted if on your income tax return you are eligible for deductions or non-refundable tax credits that are not listed on this form (for example, periodic contributions to a Registered Retirement Savings Plan (RRSP), child care or employment expenses, and charitable donations). To make this request, complete Form T1213, Request to Reduce Tax Deductions at Source, to get a letter of authority from your tax services office. Give the letter of authority to your employer or payer. You do not need a letter of authority if your employer deducts RRSP contributions from your salary.

Certification

I certify that the information given in this return is, to the best of my knowledge, correct and complete.
